ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTANT - As an employee of Holcomb Environmental services, I perform chemical exposure assessments for various environmental impact studies.

As a part of this, I have performed an assessment of a proposed gas sweetening project in southeast Michigan which included health effects and aesthetic evaluations of the operation and a risk assessment of the traffic route proposed for shipping production chemicals and products. I have also provided an oversight evaluation of a proposed municipal solid waste incinerator for the city where it was being sited. This included evaluations of the construction and service agreements, permit application and health risk assessment.

I have also performed an evaluation of chlorinated solvents used at a major midwest company. This included potential chronic and acute health effects, safety measures to be used and recommendations of which solvents were preferred over others based on health and environmental impact considerations.

As a part of the HES staff I have been involved in developing procedures for indoor air quality assessments, environmental audits, and Community Right-to-Know audits and performing these audits as requested.

I have provided expert witness testimony in a civil case involving the toxic effects of ozone exposure.

I have investigated sources of nutrient influent to a series of private lakes and recommended a program of remediation to halt the influent and remove built up nutrients from the lake bottoms.
